“He said to the gardener, ‘For three years now I have come in search of fruit on this fig tree but have found none. So cut it down.”’ - Lk 13:7a

Dear Parishioners & Visitors,

Human beings have an innate drive to find causation, a reason for things and events happening. This generally works well and helps us devise systems and ways of doing things that are safer and more productive. For example, automobile accident rates have been going down for years, measured by deaths per million miles driven. We design cars and trucks to be safer, based on research and testing. Though there might be an accident, it is far more likely that a human being will survive due to better engineering, design, etc. And yet, when an accident happens we still look for reasons, for example, excessive speed of the vehicle, or perhaps the driver was impaired by alcohol, lack of sleep, or something else. We seek to explain reasons for events, especially accidents.

In the ancient world, and perhaps even our own, many accidents or tragic events were explained by appeal to the gods, or God. It was understood that bad things happened to bad people; in other words, if something bad happened to someone, it’s because that someone did something bad. Good people lived lives that were blessed and filled with good things. A tragedy or accident nearly guaranteed that the victim was somehow at fault, and reaped the tragic remuneration for what he had sown. Much of the Old Testament, especially the Torah, provides the underpinnings for this view. But there are other books, for example, Job, that question it.

At the time of Jesus, when a tragic event happened at Siloam or when Pilate desecrated Jewish blood, the popular idea was that these people somehow had it coming. They must have done something bad for which they were punished. Jesus, however, interprets these events differently. He does not see this as a just punishment for some hidden sin. Instead, he tells those who are self-righteous in their smugness that the same will happen to them unless they repent. The period of time they have between witnessing the tragedy that befell others and the unknown time of their own death is a time for repentance. And the parable Jesus gives them underlines this point. The parable also subtly informs the audience that they have not been producing the fruit of good works. They have been given a limited amount of time to repent, but if that doesn’t happen they, too, will be cut down like the barren fig tree, like those who suffered the tragedy at Siloam or desecration at the hands of Pilate. The message of today’s gospel can be summarized in one simple word: Repent!

A tragic and untimely death has a way of focusing our attention. Unfortunately, when we lose someone dear suddenly we become painfully aware of how short our life is, how precious are the days that we have been given. Too often our lives are occupied with simple tasks rather than profound meaning. There are daily chores to do, people who rely on us to do our part. But today’s gospel reminds us that the time we are given is short and may come to a conclusion quickly and without warning. The time we have on this earth is for repentance and subsequently for doing the will of God. When we see tragedy strike others it can be easy for some to explain away the circumstances to poor decision making on their part, or plain bad luck. We might even become a bit proud at our own more fortunate and prudent decision making, not recognizing the many close calls we have certainly faced. But the time we are given is not for smugness or pride. Tragedy can befall any of us without warning. The gospel is a call for us to appreciate the limited time we have on earth, to respond generously to the needs of others, and to walk humbly.

Celebrate the Sacrament of Reconciliation

This Lent, the Archdiocese is undertaking an initiative to encourage greater participation in the Sacrament of Reconciliation, especially among those who have not received this sacrament recently. The Light is on for You began in the Washington, DC metro area and has spread throughout the country over the last decade.

Every parish in the Archdiocese of San Francisco will be offering the Sacrament of Reconciliation/Confession every Tuesday evening during Lent from 6:00 p.m. to 8 p.m.

You are welcome to receive this Sacrament here at St. Philip’s also on Tuesdays, 6-8 p.m., with the exception of April 2nd when we will celebrate our Parish–wide Penance service at 7:00 p.m.
Have you ever thought about becoming a Sister? Do you seek a new path? Are you listening to your heart? Single Catholic women ages 18 - 40 are invited to a Religious Vocation Discernment Retreat with the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul April 26-28, 2019 in Los Altos Hills, California (Bay Area).  If you would like to know more about attending this prayerful and reflective discernment retreat, contact Sister Lisa Laguna, D.C. at 650/949-8890, 213-210-9903, or email us at srllaguna@doc1633.org learn more at www.Daughters-Of-Charity.com/retreats/

A Prayer for Vocations

Loving and generous God, you called the prophets to bring your word to your chosen people. Your Son, Jesus, called the first disciples to be bold proclaimers of the good news. In the modern world, you continue to call your sons and daughters to the priesthood, diaconate, and consecrated life. Calm the chaos and soothe the sounds of our world, and allow more to hear your soft voice calling them to pick up their cross and follow. May the Holy Spirit fall upon your church in a profound way, so that we may experience a tremendous harvest of grace. May vocations increase ever abundantly and may your church stand as a witness to the world of the good news of your Son, Jesus Christ. —Amen

The story of the annunciation, set in Nazareth, with the angel Gabriel and his greeting that forms the basis of the first lines of the Hail Mary prayer, Mary’s fiat (“May it be done to me”) and more are all packed into this short thirteen-verse story told by Luke. There is no other evangelist who relates this event. And no other New Testament author even references it. The later stories, artistic depictions, legends, and lore surrounding the annunciation ultimately find their source in today’s gospel. The Gospel of Matthew, as we read earlier, has a different story about Joseph and Mary living separately as a betrothed couple, not in Nazareth but Bethlehem, when Joseph discovers that Mary is pregnant. In Matthew there is no annunciation, only Joseph’s dream in which he is assured that he can take her as his wife. So even though we are in the liturgical year when we read Luke, we also read him today because he’s the only evangelist to tell us the story of the annunciation. Liturgically, this feast is nine months prior to Christmas, the feast of the Nativity, when we celebrate the birth of Jesus.

It is significant that we hear about this event from Luke’s pen as he is the evangelist who tells us more stories about women than any other evangelist. And here we have not only Mary, but Elizabeth, her cousin. Mary displays the attitude of a proper disciple. She listens to the word of God spoken through Gabriel. Her response is a simple but profound, “May it be done to me according to your word.” She knows that nothing is impossible for God. There were stories in the Scriptures about women becoming pregnant in older age, like Sarah, Abraham’s wife. Mary learns that Elizabeth, thought to be barren, will also have a child. But Mary herself is young and betrothed to Joseph. She, too, will have a child. Here Luke and Matthew have in common the idea that Mary was a virgin when she conceived. And this is a theological point echoed even in the Qur’an (chap.19). In this way Luke draws attention to Jesus’ identity as “Son of God,” for he was born of a virgin. Ultimately, this is a theological, rather than a biological, truth. For the Gospel of Mark, the Gospel of John, the apostle Paul, and other New Testament authors also claim Jesus as “Son of God” without saying anything about Mary’s virginity. Today, we focus on the theological significance of the annunciation because the story is more than theology than biology.
