Pentecost Sunday

[Jesus] breathed on them and said to them, “Receive the Holy Spirit. Whose sins you forgive are forgiven them, and whose sins you retain are retained.” - Jn 20:22-23
Dear Parishioners and Visitors,

We are now about fifty days, or seven weeks, from Easter.

To be clear, Pentecost was a Jewish feast of the springtime, also known as the Feast of Weeks, or the Feast of the New Harvest or even the Feast of New Wine. Because it comes about fifty days (Lev. 23:16) after the feast of Passover it was also called Pentecost (which means “fifty” in Greek). The Acts of the Apostles tell us that it was on the Jewish Feast of Pentecost that the apostles were emboldened by the Spirit to preach to Israel, assembled in Jerusalem for the feast. Thus, Luke precedes the story of Peter (as representing the Twelve) and his preaching, with the outpouring of the Spirit, thereby emboldening the Twelve so.

But today we read from the Gospel of John, which seems not to know anything about the feast of Pentecost and the emboldened Peter preaching. Instead, the story we have in John takes place on Easter Sunday when the risen Christ appears to the disciples (save Thomas, which we shall learn later) to give them the Spirit and the gift of peace. Upon receiving the gift of the Spirit, the disciples are emboldened not to preach (as Luke would have it) but to forgive sins. Though Jesus conquered the cosmic power of sin on the cross, it is the role of the disciples to forgive individual sins, almost as a clean-up operation after the major victory has been won.

Though this power to forgive sins has been traditionally understood to be the sacrament of reconciliation, this should not stop modern followers of Jesus (disciples) from forgiving others. In other words, forgiveness is not limited to sacramental ritual. Forgiveness has a power to unleash one held by some wrongdoing. We need think only about our own friends and families. How often do we forgive someone who has wronged us? How often do we seek forgiveness when we’ve wronged another? Those tasks belong to the disciples of Jesus per his handling on of the Spirit after Easter. We can certainly forgive and seek forgiveness without taking anything away from the sacrament of reconciliation.

PRAYER FOR THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Spirit, fan into flame the gifts I received in my Baptism and Confirmation. I want to receive the fire of Your love as Your disciples did at Pentecost. Come with wonder and awe, with wisdom, understanding, and counsel, with courage and faith in You. Holy Spirit, may my actions witness to Your presence in my life. Help me to see the ways my strengths can serve others in their weakness. In all my interactions, I want to radiate love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. Breathe new life into the world through me. Amen.

When faced with a decision or a dilemma, where do we turn? Whenever we have to discern the proper course of action, the Holy Spirit is available as our advocate and guide. As Christians, we look not to our world for direction but to God. The gifts of the Holy Spirit are given to help us find our path to proper thought and conduct. Wisdom, right judgment, knowledge, understanding, fortitude, piety, and fear of the Lord are all perfect tools for discernment. These gifts allow us to keep our relationships and perspective in proper order. It is the Holy Spirit who opens our eyes to see that which we would otherwise overlook and opens our hearts to receive those people who would otherwise be ignored. Ask the Holy Spirit to enlighten you today.

Feast of Mary, Mother of the Church

Welcome to one of the newest feasts in the Catholic Church! The feast of Mary, Mother of the Church, was established by Pope Francis in spring 2018. While the formal celebration is new, the honor is as old as the Gospels. Jesus spoke few words on the Cross, but several of them were addressed to his mother and the apostle John. “Woman, behold your son.” “Son, behold your mother.” This means far more than simply someone to care for Mary as she got on in years and someone for John to celebrate Jewish festivals with. John represents all of us, the Church. Jesus entrusted Mary to us as our mother. At the end of the historic Second Vatican Council in the midst of tumultuous times, Bl. Pope Paul VI formally declared Mary as Mother of the Church and invited us to pray to her under that title. With our recent celebration of the birthday of the Church at Pentecost, we remember that every birth has a mother. Happy Feast of Mary, Mother of the Church!

Barnabas, a Jew of Cyprus, comes as close as anyone outside the Twelve to being a full-fledged apostle. He was closely associated with Saint Paul—he introduced Paul to Peter and the other apostles—and served as a kind of mediator between the former persecutor and the still suspicious Jewish Christians.

When a Christian community developed at Antioch, Barnabas was sent as the official representative of the church of Jerusalem to incorporate them into the fold. He and Paul instructed in Antioch for a year, after which they took relief contributions to Jerusalem.

Later Paul and Barnabas, now clearly seen as charismatic leaders, were sent by Antioch officials to preach to the gentiles. Enormous success crowned their efforts. After a miracle at Lystra, the people wanted to offer sacrifice to them as gods—Barnabas being Zeus, and Paul, Hermes—but the two said, "We are of the same nature as you, human beings. We proclaim to you good news that you should turn from these idols to the living God" (see Acts 14:8-18).

But all was not peaceful. They were expelled from one town, they had to go to Jerusalem to clear up the ever-recurring controversy about circumcision, and even the best of friends can have differences. When Paul wanted to revisit the places they had evangelized, Barnabas wanted to take along his cousin John Mark, author of the Gospel, but Paul insisted that since Mark had deserted them once, he was not fit to take along now. The disagreement that followed was so sharp that Barnabas and Paul separated: Barnabas taking Mark to Cyprus, Paul taking Silas to Syria. Later they were reconciled—Paul, Barnabas and Mark.

When Paul stood up to Peter for not eating with gentiles for fear of his Jewish friends, we learn that "even Barnabas was carried away by their hypocrisy" (see Galatians 2:1-13).
