NEXT WEEK’S READINGS (7-28-2019)

Prepare Your Heart & Mind for Next Week’s Encounter

First Reading: Genesis 18:20-32
[Abraham] persisted: “Please, do not let my Lord grow angry if I speak up this last time.”

Psalm: 138:3a
Lord, on the day I called for help, you answered me.

Second Reading: Colossians 2:12-14
You were buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him?

“And I tell you, ask and you will receive; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you.”
Dear Parishioners and Visitors,

The Martha and Mary story in Luke is so familiar many people refer to themselves as either a “Martha,” meaning they are good at or even prefer working in the kitchen, or a “Mary,” meaning they do not worry about such things. Indeed this gospel has been so often used to support so many various understandings of ministry, household chores, the role of women.

Ultimately, it is the last verse that causes many to perk up or question their own priorities. Is it really the better part to sit and listen, leaving others to do the serving? What if the Marthas of the world stopped working in the kitchen, leaving the Marys and Jesus himself without a meal?

At its worst, some use this passage to reinforce traditional domestic roles of women and men, with women doing the serving and men doing the reclining, visiting and eating. Sometimes the reading is also used to claim that religious life (priesthood/sisterhood) is “better” than the lay state. But such facile readings do not do justice to the short story in Luke. In fact, they turn the moral of the story on its head.

Primarily, it is significant that Jesus is interacting with two women. One, Mary, is seated at his feet, listening to his instruction as a disciple, though she is not called that here. The other, Martha, is “burdened with much serving” in attempting to prepare a meal for Jesus. Jesus tells Martha in effect that the proper service for a disciple in this situation is to listen to Jesus. It is not to fret about serving meals.

Luke will make this point again in Acts of the Apostles, when the apostles are too busy serving at table to be attentive to God’s word and to prayer. (Acts 6:2-4). To free themselves up for prayer and reading the word, the apostles appoint seven to serve at table, as “deacons.” The deacons then do just that. They see to the needs of the Hebrew-speaking and Greek-speaking Christians, so that the apostles can devote themselves entirely to their ministry.

The gospel reading today is not about the role of women, or the clerical/religious state versus the laity. Instead, the story demonstrates that the proper role of a disciple is attentiveness to Jesus and his word.

For self reflection:
- Each person in today’s readings had different gifts for offering hospitality. What are yours?
- How do you pay attention to others in ways that will offer the hospitality of Jesus?
The Schola Cantorum of the London Oratory School (director, Charles Cole) will tour the western U.S. this summer, performing in Utah and California. This choir of about 40 boys will sing two performances in San Francisco, both on Sunday, July 28, 11:00 am Mass at St. Mary’s Cathedral (with Archbishop Salvatore Cordileone as celebrant); and again Sunday, July 28, 5:00 pm concert at Mission Dolores Basilica.

Founded in 1996, the choir gives Catholic boys the opportunity of a choral education within the state education system from age 7 to 18. In addition to performing its liturgical roles and sacred music, the Schola has recorded numerous soundtracks, including the Lord of the Rings, as well as CDs and television and radio broadcasts.

Grandparent’s Vocation

God has great dreams for each child. And he calls grandparents to help our grandchildren achieve them. God has given us this new vocation, the life of a grandparent.

Here are five simple ways to play a significant role in shaping your grandchild’s life and faith:

Love Lavishly
Children value and follow those they trust and love. If you want to help shape your grandchild’s life, they will have to trust you first. To trust you, they will first need to experience your love.

Your undivided attention shows children that they matter and are loved, and that secure love lays the foundation for faith.

Pray passionately
Just imagine what your family would look like if you made it your one goal to pray each day for their faith and their lives. Every family needs a prayer champion. Imagine the confidence your grandson or granddaughter will feel throughout their life by simply knowing that their grandparent prays for them each day by name.

Dream Deeply
Dreams are powerful, and each of us has them. Kids dream naturally. In those dreams, they find their purpose for life and their passions for living.

When you help a child dream, you help him or her listen to the voice of God. Kids will dream on their own; when you join them in that journey, you nurture their faith and inspire their future. Ask questions. Ask them about what they want to be, what they hope for, or what makes them excited.

Model masterfully
Faith is caught more than taught. When a child sees a person they love practicing the faith, they begin to follow suit.

Connect Creatively
Faith is not an individual journey; it’s a team sport. We need each other. We are on this journey together. A healthy community makes you better. God has already created that community for you. It’s called the Church. The more engaged in the Church you are, the more engaged your grandchild will be.

Saints Joachim and Anne’s Story
In the Scriptures, Matthew and Luke furnish a legal family history of Jesus, tracing ancestry to show that Jesus is the culmination of great promises. Not only is his mother’s family unmentioned, we also know nothing factual about them except that they existed. Even the names Joachim and Anne come from a traditional source written more than a century after Jesus died.

The heroism and holiness of these people however, is inferred from the whole family atmosphere around Mary in the Scriptures. Whether we rely on the tradition about Mary’s childhood or make guesses from the information in the Bible, we see in her a fulfillment of many generations of prayerful persons, herself steeped in the religious traditions of her people.

The strong character of Mary in making decisions, her continuous practice of prayer, her devotion to the laws of her faith, her steadiness at moments of crisis, and her devotion to her relatives—all indicate a close-knit, loving family that looked forward to the next generation even while retaining the best of the past.

Joachim and Anne represent that entire quiet series of generations who faithfully perform their duties, practice their faith, and establish an atmosphere for the coming of the Messiah, but with to remain obscure.

Reflection
This is the “feast of grandparents.” It reminds grandparents of their responsibility to establish a tone for generations to come: They must make the traditions live and offer them as a promise to little children. But the feast has a message for the younger generation as well. It reminds the young that older people’s greater perspective, depth of experience, and appreciation of life’s profound rhythms are all part of wisdom not to be lightly or ignored.

Below is a prayer to the Precious Blood of Jesus from the Raccolta, a collection of prayers from the 19th century. It can help in our meditation on God’s love, allowing ourselves to be washed clean by his love.

Most Precious Blood of life eternal, price and ransom of the whole universe, drink and bath of the soul, ever pleading the cause of man before the throne of heavenly Mercy. I adore Thee most profoundly: I would, if I were able, make to Thee some compensation for the outrages and wrongs Thou dost ever suffer from men. Who will not bless this Blood of value infinite? Who does not feel himself inflamed with the love of Jesus, who shed it all for us? What should I be but for this Blood, which hath redeemed me? And who drew it out of the veins of my Lord, even unto the last drop? It was love. O immense love, which gave to us this saving Balsam! O Balsam beyond all price, streaming forth from the Fount of immeasurable love! Give to all hearts, all tongues, power to praise, celebrate, and thank Thee, now and ever, and throughout all eternity. Amen.
