PREISTS’ RETIREMENT FUND

Please join in thanking the retired clergy of the Archdiocese of San Francisco with a gift to the Priests Retirement Fund Collection at Masses on September 21 and 22.

Support of the Fund helps alleviate the financial burden of living, healthcare, and extended care expenses, and ensures that clergy and religious can spend retirement in continued engagement with their communities. The Priests Retirement Fund is an expression of gratitude to these men for a lifetime of ministry and service.

REFLECT AND RESPOND TO SCRIPTURE THIS WEEK

First Reading - Exodus 32:7-11, 13-14 - Moses petitions God not to punish the Israelites for the apostasy of making a golden calf and worshipping it. Who should you pray for in your life who has gravely sinned?

Second Reading— 1 Timothy 1:12-17 - Paul uses his own life as an example of the depths of divine mercy. Who do you know needs to hear this message of God's mercy?

Gospel Reading  - Luke 15:1-32 - God’s love for us is reflected in the reaction of the Father's embrace of his lost (prodigal) son who has returned. When have you shown this depth of love to another?

Prepare Your Heart & Mind for Next Week’s Encounter

First Reading - Amos 8:4-7 - “We will buy the lowly for silver, and the poor for a pair of sandals; even the refuse of the wheat we will sell!”

Psalm: 113:1-2, 4-8 - Praise the Lord who lifts up the poor.

Second Reading— 1 Timothy 2:1-8 - This is good and pleasing to God our savior, who wills everyone to be saved and to come to knowledge of the truth.

Gospel: Luke 16:1-13 - "If, therefore, you are not trustworthy with dishonest wealth, who will trust you with true wealth?"
Dear Lord, You look for me when I am lost. Help me look for you. Help me let you find me so that I can experience the joy you feel over one sinner who repents and returns home.

Dear Parishioners and Visitors,

In a reflection in his weekly general audience on the Gospel parable of the shepherd who leaves 99 sheep to find one who has become lost, Pope Francis said that in Jesus’ vision "there are not sheep who are definitively lost but only sheep meant to be found."

"We must understand this well: for God, no one is definitively lost," said the pope. "Never! Up to the last moment, God looks for us." "The perspective therefore is ... dynamic, open, stimulating, and creative," said Pope Francis. "It pushes us to go out in search of undertaking a way of fraternity."

"No distance can keep the shepherd away; and no flock can renounce a brother or sister," he continued. "Finding who is lost is the joy of the pastor and of God, but is also the joy of the whole flock! We are all sheep who have been found and gathered up by the mercy of the Lord, called to gather together to him the whole flock!" "We must reflect often on this parable because in our Christian community there is always someone that is missing and has left leaving an empty spot," said the pope. "Sometimes this is discouraging and brings us to believe that it was an inevitable loss, a sickness without remedy."

But, Pope Francis said that communities that think this way end up displaying a rather unattractive quality.

"It is then that we run the risk of closing ourselves up in a sheep-pen, where there will not be the smell of the sheep but the stink of being closed up!" exhorted the pontiff. "We must not be closed up because we will have the stink of things that are closed up."

"Never!" Francis cried out. "We must get out and not close in on ourselves, in our small communities, in our parishes, believing ourselves 'the just.' This happens when we are lacking the missionary impulse that brings us to meet others."

Reflecting more at length on the parable, the pope said that after the loss of the one sheep, the shepherd might have reasoned to himself: "I'll make the balance; I have the 99, I have lost one but it is not a great loss." "He instead goes to search for that one, because each one is very important for him and that one is the most in need, the most abandoned, the most thrown away," said Francis. "We are all forewarned: mercy towards sinners is the style with which God acts and God's mercy is absolutely faithful -- nothing and no one can divert God from God's will of salvation."

"God does not know our current throwaway culture; God has nothing to do with it," said the pope. "God does not throwaway any person; God loves all, looks for all; one by one! God does not know this phrase 'throwaway people' because God is all love and all mercy."

"The Lord's flock is always on the path: you cannot possess the Lord, you cannot delude yourself of imprisoning him into our schemes and our strategies," said the pontiff. "The pastor will be found there where the sheep is lost. The Lord therefore goes to search there where he wants to meet us, not where we insist on finding him!"

Responding to those who might say that searching for the lost sheep leaves the other 99 vulnerable, Pope Francis said: "In no other way can you put the flock back together if you are not following the way traced by the mercy of the pastor."

"While searching for the lost sheep, he provokes the 99 into participating in the reunification of the flock," said the pope. "Then it is not only the sheep carried on his back, but all the flock will follow the pastor to his house to have a party with friends and neighbors."
WHY DO WE DO THAT? - CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

Question: Someone close to me has left the Church. How should I reach out to them?

Answer: For many of us, this can be a challenging question. When people we love leave the Church, we may not always know how to relate to them in certain ways. Are some conversation topics off limits? Are there certain behaviors or decisions we can't support in good conscience? When someone or something is lost, Jesus shows two different attitudes in his parables.

One is actively seeking. Don't give up on this person and their life of faith. Ask them about their spiritual journey. Invite them to spend time with you in faith settings, as appropriate, and outside of them. Continue in relationship with those you love.

The other attitude Jesus shows is consistent witness in the waiting. In the parable of the Prodigal Son, the father doesn't go after the son. He waits for his return. However, the son knows his father is trustworthy. He remembers his father's fair treatment of the hired hands and knows it is safe to return, despite all he has done.

Your ability to change someone may be small. However, you can change yourself. Make sure you consistently treat others with kindness, compassion, and respect. If your loved one wants a deeper conversation, they'll know you are a person to trust, a place to which they can return.

TO THE PARENTS OF OUR YOUNGEST DICIPLES

As parents, and leaders of our domestic church, parents are responsible for forming their children in our Catholic faith. There is no more important experience to Catholics than the Mass, so it is crucial to help children understand and participate in liturgy as much as they are able.

Following as some tips worth sharing from an experienced family who attends Mass regularly with their two little ones.

BEFORE CHURCH

1. Make sure children are well-fed right before Mass. They do not need to fast, nor will fasting help them to be on their best behavior during Mass.
2. Dress them in some special clothing that they wear only for church or other special events. It helps them to identify that what we do at Mass as different from everyday activity.
3. Check your diaper bag to make sure it is stocked for any possible needs. Consider including a small toy or book that your child sees only on Sunday Mass.

FOR TODDLERS OR OLDER CHILDREN

1. Read the readings in the car on the way to church. This could be the job of an older child. Then everyone hears them at least once in case someone has to step out during a portion of the Mass.
2. Before going in to the church take a moment to remind children what you are about to do. Make sure they know what their job is at Mass. For this family they say that their job is to be quiet/still, to participate by sharing their voices and to pray.

AT CHURCH

1. Sit up front. It can feel scary and even a little out of control the first few times, but it makes a world of difference for little ones to be able to see the action.
2. We physically hold our young children in our arms during Mass. The children get a better view; as they grow and mature we can talk them through the stories and the actions; and we have a bit more control over their behavior. If an infant or toddler gets squirmy, often switching who is holding them is enough to calm them down. Otherwise we might play a quiet game of “point to the...candles, priest, altar, cross, etc.”
3. If an infant or toddler makes a little noise during Mass and settles down right away, try not to feel self-conscious. Most folks except for those closest to you do not even notice. Children are a gift to the church and we are happy to have them.
4. If a child cries or makes continual noise, it is best to calmly step out of the pew and take the child out of the main assembly until they have calmed down or are quiet. Our experience is that stepping out and returning even a few times is not nearly as disruptive as a crying baby and parishioners appreciate your consideration of their attempt to pray. Those that are parents understand. Do come back!

AFTER MASS

Praise your children abundantly for their good behavior.

The feast of Our Lady of Sorrows dates back to the twelfth century. Since at least that time, Catholics have recognized seven events in the life of Mary that caused her great sorrow. That is why the image of Mary as Our Lady of Sorrows often shows her with seven swords piercing her Immaculate Heart. She’s also sometimes represented by a winged heart pierced with seven swords. The swords represent her grievous sorrows. Known as the Seven Dolores of Mary, these sorrows are:

1. The prophecy of Simeon (Luke 2:25-35)
2. The flight into Egypt (Matthew 2:13-15)
3. Loss of the Child Jesus for three days (Luke 2:41-50)
5. Crucifixion and Death of Jesus (John 19:25-30)
6. The body of Jesus being taken from the Cross (Psalm 130; Luke 23:50-54; John 19:31-37)

That’s a lot for one woman to endure in a lifetime! Yet, Mary wasn’t just another woman; she was the woman chosen by God to bear his Son. With that great joy and responsibility also came great sorrow. Along with her great joy and sorrow came great love – for each one of us as her children. This is what our Lord asked of her ask he hung dying on the Cross – to become Mother to all humankind. Love is what gave her the courage to accept Simeon’s prophecy. Love is what gave her the strength to embrace each sword as it pierced her heart. Love is what urged here to accept her Son’s dying request. Love is what compels her to continue caring for us tenderly, limitlessly, and faithfully.

God creates out of nothing. Wonderful you say. Yes, to be sure, but He does what is still more wonderful: He makes saints out of sinners. | Soren Kierkegaard

LIVE THE LITURGY - INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

We all struggle with ‘worshipping’ things that are not God. These are things that we place in our lives and reverence more than God himself. Things such as our self-image, power, status, possessions, securities, and even ideologies can be allowed to make great claims on us. Sometimes, who "god" is for us is what we make this "god" out to be. Our self-constructed gods serve little purpose, other than placating us and making us feel better about ourselves and our world. This is not the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, nor the God whom Jesus called Father. The true God challenges us out of our comfort zones and pushes us to discover our potential. But, He does so patiently and with great love. He knows how fickle we can be and is always eager to welcome us home.
